Health Department Recommends Fifty Changes to Improve Union

by Larry Broadwell

• THAT CONDITIONS IN the Student Union are almost fully corrected, or as close as they will ever be to correct, seemed to be the consensus of University and Food Service officials last week.

Health Department inspectors, responding to a complaint by Robert Wang, recommended about fifty changes for the Union and Annex to eliminate the recent rash of insects there. Slater's GW manager, Ralph Kloetzli, was not surprised at the long list of health threats, which he called "about average for an inspection."

Kloetzli elaborated on three of the recommendations, stating that many have already been taken care of by the University or the Food Service. A food rack in the kitchen which the Health Department considered "unsanitary" was replaced; pipe holes in the floors and ceilings will be plastered over to deny bugs their former easy access to food-containing areas; and better maintenance of the ice-making machine, in which the inspector found a roach-attracting mineral slime, will be required.

The only relatively permanent way of eliminating insects, fumigation, is impossible because some of the toxic spray might find its way into the food, Kloetzli explained. Meanwhile, bugs killed by poisons, stalwart students, or scalding in the cooking ovens are being swiftly replaced by more insects in food cartons that are shipped in from warehouses.

In answer to other complaints about the Union, Kloetzli explained that a separate coffee or single-purchase line was impractical, and that stale bread is virtually unavoidable. Despite an efficient breadbox and individual wrapping, he stated, the bread always seemed to turn stale within a few hours after delivery.

University and Slater's officials were still blaming each other as of last Friday for the poor maintenance of the large garbage bin in the alley behind the Union. The bin is used by both the Union and the Bookstore, as well as janitors from other campus buildings who surreptitiously add their trash to the fragrant, overflowing hulk in Colonial Lane. Rental of another such container to alleviate the overflow is a financial impracticality, according to University administrators.

The blame for the wide-open doors on the bin, which draw insects and occasional rats, emit the pungent odors so familiar to parking lot users and Madison Hall residents, and allow the wind to strew garbage around Colonial Lane was largely accepted by Slater's, but not without an occasional jab at the University janitorial staff.

In an effort to speed service in the Union, Kloetzli said, he has ordered cashiers to figure bills in their heads rather than itemizing the larger tabs. He denied that this leads to "approximation" by the cashiers during the busier hours.

Among improvements listed by Kloetzli were: extension of serving hours and increased variety of food; employment of an exterminator on a full-time, regular basis (the University formerly called for the services of an exterminator only for "emergency" calls in the dining area); purchase of a completely new and modern pattern of tableware; and preparations for a complete program of student hiring to begin next semester.

Summer Recreation Plans Include Dances, Swimming

• AN EXTENSIVE RECREATIONAL program has been planned for the coming summer session. Charles Reed of the Intramural department has set up a schedule for the first five-week session as follows:

- JUNE
15—Welcome Center—coffee and cokes.
19—Bermuda Dance.
24—Bowling Party.
28—Night Tour of Washington.
- JULY
4—Fireworks display at Washington Monument.
6—Swimming Party.
10—Barge Trip.
14—Bowling Party.
17—Bermuda Dance.

In addition to these activities, the intramurals department is going to sponsor organizations and help students to organize clubs, and men's and women's dormitories will be coordinated for co-recreational activities.

Recreational supplies for picnics and outings and boating and water skiing facilities will be available to interested students.

Reed is also arranging a student-ticket plan for Carter Barron Amphitheater and Shady Grove summer stock theater.

The most successful and popular of these activities will be repeated during the second five-week session, and suggested activities may be added. The pro-

"Ike" To Receive Honorary Degree

• FORMER PRESIDENT Dwight D. Eisenhower will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service at the University's 143rd annual Commencement, 8 pm, Sunday, June 7, in the University Yard (or, in case of rain, Constitution Hall).

Three outstanding educators will also be honored at the ceremony. Clark Kerr, President of the University of California, and the Very Reverend Edward Bernard Burn, S.J., President of Georgetown University will receive honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degrees. Benjamin C. Willis, superintendent of schools in Chicago, will be given the honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service.

University President Thomas Henry Carroll will confer the honorary degrees and deliver the traditional charge to the graduates, and University Marshal John F. Latimer will lead the academic procession. The invocation and benediction will be given by Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, Milbank Professor of Religion and Director of University Chapel.

Approximately 1,400 will receive degrees at the exercises.

Speaking for the students receiving bachelor's degrees at the commencement will be Richard Cunningham, a Phi Beta Kappa, with a major in American Thought and Civilization.

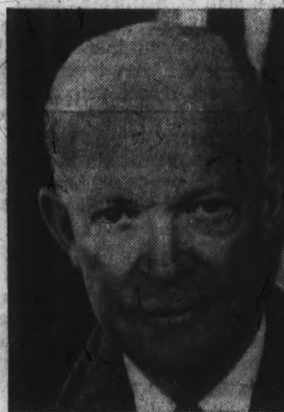

Receiving emeritus status will be Oswald S. Colclough, who will be named Professor Emeritus of Law and Dean of Faculties Emeritus; Robert M. Cooper, Professor Emeritus of Law; Helen B. Lawrence, Professor Emeritus of Physical Education for Women; and Gretchen L. Rogers, Professor Emeritus of German.

Allen W. Dulles, LL.B. '26, LL.D. '59, former Director of the Central Intelligence Agency, author, and presently Consultant in International Affairs, will be awarded an Alumni Achievement Award in the field of Law and Public Service.

Veryl Gladys Shult, AM in Ed '38, specialist and consultant in mathematics institutes, author of textbooks, and director of mathematics institutes, will receive an Alumni Achievement Award in the field of Mathematics Education.

A third Alumni Achievement Award, in the field of Government and Philanthropy, will be presented posthumously to William W. McPeak who died March 31.

At 2 pm on Sunday, June 7, Baccalaureate Services will be held at Washington Cathedral. University Provost and Dean of Faculties O. S. Colclough will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon.

The previous day, Saturday, June 6, The School of Medicine's Closing Assembly will be held at 1:30 pm. in Lisner Auditorium with Harold Stevens, Professor of Neurology, as speaker.

That evening, the President's Reception for Graduates will be held from 8:30 to 11 pm at the Mayflower Hotel.

On May 6, the General Alumni Association's Awards Ceremony was held in Lisner Auditorium at 11 am. Alumni were honored for service to alumni organizations as were faculty members who have completed 25 years at the University.

Receiving Alumni Service Awards were Edgar R. Baker, AB '41, for his work as Chairman of the 1963-64 Annual Support Program, and Alfred E. Briguillo,

Editorials

Looking Back In . . .

• THE HATCHET CAN make some of the people happy some of the time, but it can never make all the people happy anytime. Reflecting the University's news can consistently please only the apathetic and the uninformed.

The news which the HATCHET has presented this year, to a large degree, has not been "nice news" or "positive news." It would be a distortion to print the story of a referendum, a game after the President's death, or a tuition hike as "nice news."

If you have read that the "University has cockroaches," it is because the University does have cockroaches. The unpleasant stories we have run are not fabricated by HATCHET, they have happened, and in our judgment they were important events on this campus.

We have been faced with two alternatives this year, to be "yellow" and cowardly, or to be "yellow" and sensational. Many feel that we have been both at one time or another. We are always amazed and amused to be accused of partisanship, of personal vendettas, by Republicans and Democrats, by Rights groups and anti-Rights groups.

When we started in September we had a few illusions and some enthusiasm. The illusions are mostly gone. Nonetheless, conferences, threatening phone calls, anonymous letters, and "friendly suggestions" to the contrary we have on the whole not bowed to any pressure group.

When we have made mistakes, misspelled names, left out or lost or misplaced stories, the responsibility lay with us. We printed without prior censorship; We cannot, as a result, blame our failures upon successful administrative pressure, or "Hate HATCHET" campaigns. Our editorial columns must certainly have shown our delight in character assassination and contumelious argument. However, the news columns contained, as much as possible, all the news that fit.

The news itself, while not always positive, was at least encouraging. Danes, picnics and sings to the contrary, it has been of a more substantial nature this year. The fact that the student body concerned themselves with issues more vital than the subject matter of Foggy Bottom, and that the administration, approving or not, let them get away with it, is a sign of maturing.

The University has come to grips with issues, and perhaps left them half-solved, but half-solved is better than unfaced. We have been forced to take a long look at what we are, a school with problems and promise—rights problems, library problems, money problems.

However, it won't do, it never has done, to hide problems like skeletons in the closet. Discussing problems may be admitting weakness to the world, but it also declares that we are doing something about it and that we will be stronger in the future.

Problems have never been solved by ignoring them, and students who pay $1250 a year to the University have a right to know where their tuition money is not going or where it should be going. They have a right to know when the University stumbles as well as when it leaps, a right to know when faculty members leave the University because they are underpaid or won't conform to the University line, a right to know why they have to stand in line half a day for books that aren't in stock, a right to know why the University signed, a right to know how much of their money is being Center architect promised for January has not yet been signed, a right to know how much of their money is being used to subsidize athletics, a right to know all the facts about anything in which the University is involved.

After all, a university does not exist for the preservation of its image, or for the image of any individual connected with it. It exists for the intellectual development of its student body, and we have never heard of the School of Education teaching that the way to encourage learning is to withhold information.

We are working toward the same goals. Despite our harangue, we have pride in and feeling for our school. It is with this motivation only that we have worked this year. We're sorry the year is over; we have not yet begun to fight.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks . . .

To the Editors:

• I WISH TO extend my sincere gratitude and appreciation to all those GW students who contributed clothing, food, and children's books to the recent drive I conducted on campus. I can assure all those who contributed to this drive that their contributions will be well utilized.

I also would like to mention the superlative co-operation of the Chi Omega sorority for their aid in sorting and packaging.

Again, THANKS.

/S/ Richard B. Abell, chairman
Student Committee for Emergency Relief of E. Kentucky

Resources . . .

To the Editors:

• I ADMIRE THE efforts of the University Young Democrats in raising funds for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library. However, I believe that a more fitting and worthwhile cause would be to appeal for donations to enhance our own library.

The YD effort is fine on its own, but Harvard's endowments and facilities are unparalleled. The same cannot be said for GW. A grant to our library in memory of our late president is as fitting a monument as any, since it also serves as a living monument, catering to the University's students, whose needs at present exceed the resources of the University to a greater extent than is the case at Harvard.

/S/ Joel Rosenberg

Reply . . .

To the Editors:

• THIS IS MY intended reply to the GW Alumni Association when upon my graduation I am asked to contribute to the University:

Dear Sirs:

When I applied to the University tuition was $900 per year. The following year the tuition was raised to $1,000, and the year after that it was raised to $1,100. My senior year I paid $1,250 tuition. Thus, while intending to pay $3,600 for my education, I ended up paying $4,250. This represents a contribution of $650. I note on the material you have sent me that the boxes which I may check signifying the amount I wish to contribute start at $15. I shall take this as my annual contribution for the remainder of my life. Please begin mailing me your literature in 43 years and I will be only too happy to continue my contributions.

/S/ Robert H. Kelley

Deficiency . . .

To the Editors:

• WHY DO WE HAVE all this furor about the deficient library lately? It seems to be a tempest in a teacup to me.

I have spent the normal course of time at this school as an undergraduate, and I have been quite satisfied with the library as it is. Some schools are in remote areas without other library facilities convenient for the students; these schools must do the best they can. But, spend as much money as this school will, it still won't end up with a second Library of Congress. And, even if it did, what a waste it would be to have two such well-equipped libraries in a limited area.

Any conscientious student doing a thorough survey of a subject must now go to the Library of Congress; and even after much money is spent, the same state of affairs will exist. Let's save the money.

/s/ Robert B. Palmer

Challenge . . .

To the Editors:

• THE YOUNG Democratic Club of this University hereby challenges the Young Republicans to a mock Presidential election here at GW next September on a date to be mutually agreed to by the two clubs.

We make this challenge in the great spirit of American democracy and politics.

/S/ The Y.D.'s

Campus Club . . .

To the Editors:

• I WISH TO CALL to your attention and to the attention of all students the generous interest which the Campus Club has shown toward THE POTOMAC. The Campus Club has purchased a full page advertisement in the spring POTOMAC. POTOMACS were sold at the Club. Now the Campus Club is awarding two $50 prizes, one for the best poem and a second for the best prose work in the issue. Winners are to be selected by a faculty committee.

Such encouragement of student activity is laudable. I and the entire POTOMAC staff wish to thank the Campus Club for its support.

Orientation To Undergo Re-Vamping

• THE FALL Orientation program will be revised in an attempt to create an immediate student-faculty relationship, integrate the foreign student and expose the incoming student to all phases of University life, according to Skip Grehm, Freshman Director.

A Student Council reception for foreign students and a student-faculty reception for the night prior to registration are under consideration.

In addition, the assembly programs will be carefully timed, and following the evening assembly there will be a buffet picnic open to all students, in the University yard. That same night the Council will sponsor an orientation dance which may be held in the middle of the block of 21st St. between G and H.

A variety show with acts to be performed by various University organizations will feature one-act plays, choral selections, and dances. There will be free time allotted so that the freshman won't feel harried. The changes in the program have been suggested by two Student Council committees, the Student-Faculty Liaison Committee and the Freshman Orientation Committee.

dies to the situation that bothers them. However, knowing nothing about fumigation or insects or anything like that, I can only say that I think something—anything—should be done about the nasty little beasts which run around our school.

I, personally, have come across only two cockroaches in my wanderings around the Union. Once a friendly large one walked across my foot while I was studying for a zoology exam on the fourth floor, I think he was friendly, he tickled.

Another time I was drinking a cup of coffee on the first floor. Now I'm not sure it was my friend again, I just ran. Halfway through my coffee a large lump started moving around at the bottom of my cup. I didn't wait to see if he tickled—hope he didn't think me anti-social.

As Professor Hennigan would say: I've presented the problem through personal anecdotes. I cannot, however, present a solution for the problem. Professor Hennigan would give me an F. This filthy school gives me a pain.

/S/ Patricia Bowerman

Support . . .

To the Editors:

• THE RECENTLY formed Student Coordinating Committee to Protest Soviet Anti-Semitism has asked the Committee of Religious Advisors to serve as consultative board for its activities. We of the committee have wholeheartedly agreed to serve in this capacity. We do this with the conviction that persecution of any group in or out of this country is a moral issue about which no genuinely religious person can remain indifferent.

We encourage every student of the University to support this group regardless of what religious faith he may hold.

Newman Chaplain,
Secretary, Religious
Advisory Committee

Ingratitude . . .

To the Editors:

• AS A FOREIGN student I read with interest your editorial concerning the expanded service to overseas students. I am sure this is timely; it is to one phrase of this editorial I take exception.

I have been in America for several years and have had for some time a sneaking suspicion that America (or Washington) did, seriously, consider herself to be "the capital of the world." Without manifesting ingratitude to my host, I wonder what basis there is for this somewhat arbitrary assumption?

This is not the way to win friends and influence people. National pride is one thing, but this is ridiculous.

EYES RIGHT! OUTSTANDING members of the 140th Air Force ROTC Cadet Group at the University received awards at the group's annual parade and review, held last Wednesday in West Potomac Park. Cadet Captain Ronald Pump received the Professor of Air Science Award, and Cadet Staff Sergeant John Sloan was awarded the Outstanding Basic Cadet Cup. Two Unit Leadership Awards were presented, Cadet First Lieutenant Marc Santacrose receiving the award for the fall semester, while Cadet Second Lieutenant Wilkinson G. Conrad received the award for the spring semester.

Slavic Program Burgeons in Ten Years

by Pat Bowerman

• THIS YEAR IS the tenth anniversary of the Department of Slavic Languages. In 1953 it consisted of one person, Professor Helen Bates Yakobson. Ten years later the Department has four full-time and four part-time staff members, and this fall a linguistics specialist will join it.

The first courses offered were merely Russian language. Now a full range of courses is offered in literature, including a survey course in English, which can be were bent on capturing China. In 1937, when the Japanese occupied Tientsin, Professor Yakobson married an American and came to this country to become an "average American housewife."

According to Professor Yakobson, this was "quite an experience." In China, food such as apples had to be washed in boiling water and stored in a chemical solution. In America, an apple could be eaten just as it came from the store. After living in the two cultures of the Russian "intelligentsia" and the changing China, Mrs. Yakobson found the American culture an "eye-opener."

In New York, Helen Yakobson did some tutoring for Columbia University, worked her way into literary circles, and co-authored a book on Essentials of Russian in 1946. This text has, since 1947, been the official book used in armed forces correspondence courses.

To "live up to" her "reputation as the co-author of a book," Professor Yakobson joined the Russian Branch of the Voice of America. This became a full-time job, as a script writer and announcer. Her picture appeared on the cover of the Pathfinder, and she became known as "The Voice of America" in Russia. Mrs. Yakobson gave her Russian audience American news summaries, human interest stories, and information on American jazz. She was once startled to receive a phone call from the State Department, thanking her for "her services to this country."

She came to Washington and, in 1953, she was asked by Dean Doyle of the University to teach a course in Russian. Seventy-five people showed up for this first course in the one-woman department. And with the increased awareness of the Soviet Union, this enthusiastic interest has grown.

A member of many professional organizations, Professor Yakobson just finished a two-year term as National President of the American Association of Teachers of Slavic and East European Languages.

Professor Yakobson has been working over the years to get Russian on the same level with other "traditionally taught languages." Since 1953, she has been sitting at her desk at registration, looking for freshmen with backgrounds in Russian who want to take the placement test. Two years ago, for the first time, three students showed up. This year there were about eighteen.

She has been spending her time revising the fourth edition of Essentials of Russian, and preparing two other manuscripts. The new books are second-year reader and an advanced book on conversational Russian.

The reader, emphasizes Mrs. Yakobson, is not literature as it is usually taught, but "reading for fun, pleasure, and enjoyment, not for meaning or values." The text is to develop reading skills and make it easy for a beginning reader to discuss what he has read. The book will contain "terribly silly" anecdotes taken from Soviet humor magazines, old Russian folk tales, adapted short stories from Russian authors, easily-memorized poetry, three one-act plays, Soviet literature on space adventures, and a section on Soviet cartoons. The aim of the book is "to talk," to develop the skill of discussing material which would be easily read.

The book on conversational Russian is organized on a "comparative cultural basis." The stories contrast the American and the Soviet way of everyday life in sports, holidays, etc. In addition, the various levels of Russian will be presented.

WAA Picks Sandra Shelley As Sportswoman of Year

• THE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC Association's annual individual and team awards were presented at Spring Sports Awards Buffet, Tuesday, May 12. Dean Elmer Kayser, University historian, was Toastmaster and Sen. Maurine Neuberger (D-Ore.) was guest speaker.

The purpose of the banquet, according to Mrs. N. B. Smith, P. E. teacher, was to give recognition to the girls who have made outstanding achievement in, and contributions to, the physical education department's sports programs and extra-curricular activities during the past year.

One of the major awards announced was the Columbian Women's trophy for Outstanding Service to WAA, which was presented to Sharon Wolfe by Mrs. Mary Kochka, president of Columbian Women.

Miss Wolfe, a senior in the school of Education majoring in mathematics, has served as Secretary-Treasurer of WAA for several years, as well as serving as Intramural and Extramural basketball manager and participating in bowling tournaments, rifle practice, and play days. Sharon is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. She was named Outstanding Sports Manager in 1963.

The award for Outstanding Sports Manager was presented to Diane Schulte, Extramural Basketball Manager. Miss Schulte has managed the Varsity Basketball team, participated in volleyball

'Mr. Joe' Lane Named for Construction Supervisor

by Sam Gilston

• WHO WAS MR. JOE? Why was the "lane" behind the Union named after him? The answer, unknown to most University students, has finally been found.

His name was Joe Toomey. He was a short, firm Irishman with a brogue, according to Dean Elmer Kayser, "as thick as your arm." He was on campus for almost 25 years as construction supervisor for the Charles H. Tompkins Construction Company which, during that time, built most of the present University buildings, including the hospital, the School of Government, Lisner Auditorium, Buildings C and D, and the Library, as well as Tompkins and Monroe Halls. It was the University's greatest period of expansion.

Through all those years Mr. Joe was on campus either supervising the new construction or the alterations in the older buildings. He had his office where the United Christian Fellowship is now located. He was a warm and friendly man always ready with a smile and a greeting. Dr. Kayser said, "who was known and respected by almost all the students and faculty who used to love to talk with him. His quick Irish wit and understanding allowed people to talk to him with confidence and sincerity. He was, as one person who knew him described him, "the kind of person everyone would like to have for a friend."

Perhaps the most memorable thing about Mr. Joe was his long and close friendship with former University president Dr. Cloyd H. Marvin, the builder of G.W. Every morning during those 25 years, Dr. Marvin and Mr. Joe would have breakfast together at 7:30 and walk around the campus and inspect the progress of construction.

On these morning walks, Dr. Marvin would discuss his hopes and plans for the University and ask Mr. Joe for his advice. Mr. Joe served like a sort of sounding board for Dr. Marvin, and his opinions were always respected by him.

The respect that the student body held for Mr. Joe was indicated when he was made an honorary member of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Mr. Joe died in March, 1958. In the same issue of the HATCHET that carried the news of his death was the announcement that Dr. Marvin was planning to retire after 30 years as president of the University. An era had come to an end.

New Ass'ts To Aid Deans With Housing

• TWO NEW HOUSING assistants have been appointed by the University. James W. Smith is the New Assistant for Men's Housing, and Miss Rosemary Lafferty is the New Assistant for Women's Housing.

Smith, who will administer the renovation of Calhoun Hall and the conversion of Madison and Crawford Halls, expects general improvement in all areas of dormitory life. Some of the funds from the raise in tuition will be available for housing improvement. The new men's housing assistant feels there has been little assistance to those interested in offcampus housing. He hopes to improve offcampus housing information services and supplement the apartment Shopper's Guide with frequent bulletins. A native of Houston, Tex. Smith has worked with the Army's postwar housing program in Japan, and until last August was teaching at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Miss Rosemary Lafferty, new administrative assistant in the office of the Dean of Women, is presently working with Mrs. Amelia Carew on processing applications and interviewing for women's housing. The two women will eventually take over management of the Office of the Dean of Women.

Miss Lafferty comes to the University after serving as a Lieutenant Commander with 20 years experience in the Navy. She served a total of seven years in this area at the Naval Research Laboratory and main Navy Building, and describes Washington as her "adopted home." Miss Lafferty received her degree from New York State College for Teachers at Albany, and took graduate courses at University of Rochester.

A tie for third place went to Alpha Epsilon Phi and Sigma Kappa sororities, both of which have placed and participated in most of the tournaments.

taken as an introductory literature course in the required curricula of the Columbian College between English 1 and English 4. This fall a course on Soviet literature will be offered, also in English. These courses are in addition to the Russian and Comparative Russian-English Linguistics.

Professor Yakobson is proud of the progress her Department has made over the last ten years. Two years ago, the first Russian major graduated from the University; last year, there were five.

Of even greater interest than the Slavic Languages Department is Professor Yakobson herself. On Sabbatical leave for the spring semester, she took the chance to sit back and reminisce over her full and exciting life.

Helen Yakobson was born in Leningrad, of Russian descent, and spent her childhood on the Black Sea. She went to school in Moscow until the Revolution. Then she finished her education in a Chinese-Russian University in China.

Her career as a journalist in Peiping and Tientsin brought her in contact with Chinese leaders and intellectuals at a time of "ferment and upheaval," when spies were everywhere, a great feeling of nationalism was growing, Marxists were "seducing the intellectuals," and the Japanese

Gauss to Leave University After 19 Years on Faculty

To the Editors:

● ON THE OCCASION of my leaving the University after 19 years I want to say to all the students I have had in my classes and the others I come into contact with that I appreciate the privilege of having been associated with them. The students I have had have been a pleasure to teach; they have been the vital part of my university experience here. I wish them well; I shall remember them all.

/s/ Charles E. Gauss

Elton Professor of Philosophy

● DR. CHARLES GAUSS, chairman of the philosophy department, is leaving the University in June after 19 years. Dr. Gauss whose speciality is aesthetic theory, is known for his outspoken opinions on such diverse topics as Beethoven, jazz and witch - doctoring. His authority as a music critic is related to his study and teaching of music, with special emphasis upon the organ. His comments — "I don't like Beethoven. I don't pay any attention to him, he rants and raves. I don't have any Beethoven records,"—draw fire from his students. He has often said that he doesn't consider that anything good has been written between Bach and Schoenberg, but he likes improvisational jazz. Dr. Gauss got his AB and MA degrees from Georgetown and his PhD from Johns Hopkins and taught, before coming to the University in 1945, at Western Maryland University and at a girl's finishing school. He has been a visiting professor at North Carolina State, University of Colorado and Gaucher College. In 1949 Dr. Gauss published a book on Aesthetic Theories of French Art and has another book in first draft. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Volunteers . . .

● THE DISTRICT Chapter of the American Red Cross has issued a call for college volunteers to work in local agencies this summer. Jobs which "will provide a great deal of experience in many academic fields," according to a Red Cross spokesman, are available in the fields of recreation, hospital and social work.

The professor's predilection for the esoteric led him to take a course in Hindustani "just for the heck of it." He noted that the make-up of the student body had changed somewhat since he had begun teaching, "the students are younger; they're now largely a collegiate group," he said. He added that right after the war the class would frequently be filled with middle-aged students. Now the grouping is more homogeneous. Dr. Gauss plans to go to Florida immediately upon the close of the semester.

Critic Surveys Flick Fare To Beat Examination Blues

by Bob Litman

● "HEY, PROFESSOR," SAYS the spazzed-out student, "what's the best thing to do the night before that big final exam?" Answers the scholar, "why, son, take in a flick and your mind will be relaxed (and empty) for finals." If you are among the elite who can afford this form of relaxation, there's a wide and varied number of films to choose from.

For the history majors, there is the hysterical epic "The Fall of the Roman Empire" at the Warner. Please be forewarned that Dean Kayser and Professors Kenney and Herber will frown upon your paraphrasing the events as depicted in the film. However, any film with Sophia Loren has a definite asset.

The international affairs majors can choose between the brilliant "Dr. Strangelove" at the Dupont or the latest James Bond thriller, "From Russia with Love," due to hit the Keith's screen tomorrow. Diplomacy is handled slightly differently here, but who cares? We like the way 007 handles situations (and women). His way is more fun too.

The Loew's chain is monopolizing two of the best films in town. "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" remains at the Embassy with the best comedy team (Loren and Mastroianni) since Abbott and Costello. "The Best Man" at the Palace is top-notch political drama and is doing surprisingly well at the box office.

The Circle Theatre brings back two superb films this week—the British "This Sporting Life" with Richard Harris (whom this department feels deserved the non-sensational best actor oscar over Sidney Poitier) and Rachael Roberts, who was also among those nominated for best performance. On the same bill is "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner," which was on many critics' ten-best list last year.

On Wednesday the Metropolitan will house the highly-publicized musical comedy satire, "What A Way To Go!" It has Shirley MacLaine and Paul Newman, but to borrow from the late W. C. Fields again, any film with Dean Martin can't be good.

So go ahead, take the prof's advice. Take in a flick the night before that big exam but don't hold us responsible for any catastrophic consequences.

University to Expand Grad Study Grants

● THE UNIVERSITY WILL USE $234,900 in grant funds to expand its Master's program in health care administration and to implement a new program of training teachers for the mentally retarded.

The W. K. Kellogg Foundation grant for $193,700 will provide support for faculty salaries, teaching assistants, reference materials, and development of teaching materials for Doctoral and other post-Master's study.

The program will prepare individuals to fill administrative positions as heads of hospital councils, hospital associations, university or other hospital teaching centers. The University began its health care program which leads to a degree of Master of Business Administration in 1959.

In the School of Education there will be five undergraduate traineeships and four graduate fellowships available for 1965-66 to educate teachers of the mentally retarded. The $41,200 from the US Office of Education will allow the University to offer to senior-level students trained in elementary education full-tuition scholarships and stipends of $1,600 for the academic year.

The fellowships are available to students at the Master's level and offer full tuition and a stipend of $2,000 for the first year of graduate study. An additional $400 will be granted for each dependent of a married student. Preference will be shown to those who hold Bachelor's degrees in elementary education. Interested students should contact assistant dean Backer in the School of Education.

The School of Education has also received a $17,700 grant to develop a program to train teachers for emotionally disturbed children.

Pharm School Ends 92 Year Career Wed.

● THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY, in existence since 1872 and affiliated with the University since 1906, will be closed permanently at the end of the spring semester.

The closing, according to Dean R. M. Leonard, is an economic necessity. The new building and laboratories which are needed would cost at least $750,000. The University cannot provide such funds, and there is no local alumni support. With medical and dental schools receiving preference over pharmacy schools and a recent grant of one million dollars to the pharmacy school of Howard University, there was no chance of getting a federal subsidy.

The present Pharmacy School faculty will be going to various positions in nearby schools.

The 64 students will be transferring to other schools. Four students will be graduating this year: Gerald Bowman, John Pilconis, Edwina Shelford, and Norman Rubin. The ten students in their fourth year will transfer en masse to the Medical College of Virginia in Richmond. Many students have already transferred to MCV; others to the University of Maryland or other schools in their own states. MCV has agreed to accept all credits of the transferring students and has a reasonable tuition. This highly respected school has set up a pharmacy program with four sub-units: pregraduate, commercial (drugstore), manufacturing, and hospital pharmacy. The fourth year transfers are quite pleased with the school, according to Jean Farley, who will go into the pre-graduate program.

SX and DTD End Season In Tie for Softball Lead

• SX AND DELTS have completed the regular season tied for first in "A" League intramural softball.

In a season complicated by numerous rained-out games, SX emerged with a 3-0 record, while DTD finished with a 4-0 mark. In order to clear up the somewhat muddled picture in time for tomorrow's awards luncheon, the intramural department, at press time, was planning a series of playoffs to be held early this week in order to determine the softball champion.

SX maintained its undefeated status with a 6-2 victory over PSK last week. Ahead all the way the winners coasted to an easy win behind the pitching of Joe French. John Vollmerhausen hit a home run with one on for SX.

TEP defeated SAE, 5-4, last week. Winning pitcher, Jeff Rosen, aided his own cause with a two-man homer in the game.

In the only other game played before the rains washed out the rest of the schedule, AEPI won over DTD, 8-4. The Deltas, already finished with their schedule of games, played this contest to provide an opponent for AEPI, which had previously been rained out. Therefore, the loss was not recorded for the Deltas, who thus kept intact their undefeated record.

Aided by a number of walks and errors, AEPI scored three runs in both the third and fourth innings. Stuart Leventhal and Gene Klein both played well on defense for the winners. Buddy Levis was the winning pitcher.

In the "B" League, Theta Tau finished the season with a perfect 6-0 record to capture the championship. Pressed hard by SN, which closed with a 5-1 mark, the champions captured both ends of their doubleheader last week to finish ahead by one game. T. Tau beat SX, 5-1, and DTD, 4-3, in last week's twin-bill.

Against SX the winners were led by the excellent pitching of John Baer, who allowed only a few scattered hits to get credit for the win.

T. Tau came from behind to defeat the Deltas in the nightcap. Trailing by 2-0, the engineers scored two runs in the third inning and added two unearned runs in the fifth to take the lead. DTD then scored a run in the bottom of the last inning and had the tying and winning runs on base, but was unable to tally another, thus absorbing a 4-3 defeat.

Phi Sigma Delta finished in third place in the standings by defeating Los Latinos, 8-4. PSD scored two in the first, and three in both the second and third innings to take an early lead. The winners then coasted home behind the steady pitching of winner Steve Garfinkel.

AEPI split a doubleheader, beating ROTC, 12-0, and losing to TEP, 5-2. In the free-swinging first game, the APes were led by the hitting of Jerry Minkin and Joe Deutsch. Irv Spector, relieving Bob Stern in the third inning picked up the win.

SAE behind the brilliant no-hit pitching of Pete Hoffer and Bill Griffel, beat TKE, 12-0. Griffel started and pitched the first three innings, in which his team picked up a good lead. He was then relieved by Hoffer, in order that he might get rested for the second game of SAE's doubleheader.

In its second game, though, SAE lost to ROTC, 4-3. ROTC, down 3-2 going into the bottom of the fifth inning, led off the frame with a home run. They then loaded the bases with the aid of several errors by SAE, to set the stage for Larry Warren's game-winning single.

The softball standings, complete through last Sunday's games, follows:

"A" League
Delta Tau Delta	4-0

Sigma Chi	3-0
AEPI	2-1
Med Sophs	2-2
Med Frosh	1-1
Law School	1-1
Tau Epsilon Phi	2-3
Med J & S	1-3

AEPI	4-2
Tau Epsilon Phi	4-3
Delta Tau Delta	3-3
Sigma Chi	3-3
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	3-3
Tau Kappa Epsilon	1-4
Adams Hall	1-5
Sigma Phi Epsilon	1-6
Kappa Sigma	0-6

• THE INTRAMURAL DEPARTMENT will hold its annual awards luncheon tomorrow at 12 in the lower lounge of Lisner Auditorium.

The luncheon, for the intramural representatives of all participating organizations, will see the presentation of the awards for this past year of competition.

Each organization has been given points during the year on the basis of participation and wins in the various sports.

Although the standing have not yet been brought up to date to include tennis and softball, Delta Tau Delta holds first place through the completion of the recent track meet.

The leading organizations in the current standings follow:

Organization	Points
Delta Tau Delta	1936
Alpha Epsilon Pi	1856
Sigma Alpha Epsilon	1747
Sigma Chi	1648
Tau Epsilon Phi	1187

GODFREY CAMBRIDGE IS HERE IN A HILARIOUS NEW ALBUM!

FLM 13101

With wickedly pungent satire and wit, Cambridge hits the funny bone—and more! He dramatizes vital issues... he brilliantly uncovers "moments of truth" of the fads and foibles of our times... he comments, with disarming innocence, on the after-effects of the Negro revolt. Godfrey Cambridge is uproarious. Godfrey Cambridge is a name to remember. "Ready or Not, Here's Godfrey Cambridge" is an album to own.

GW's GARY TRANSTRUM (61) rides Dean Coursen of Washington Lacrosse Club away from the goal during second quarter action at Suitland High School last Saturday won the game 6-5, their first win of the season.

Colonial Baseball Finishes Season On A Happy Note

• TIMMY HILL, sophomore third baseman, sparked the previously lifeless Colonial baseball team to three decisive conference victories the past week. The Buff defeated Richmond, 8-2, and took both ends of a doubleheader from V.M.I. in Lexington, 8-3, and 9-4. The three victories brought the University record to 5-7 in the Conference and 6-12 overall.

In the Richmond game, Hill tripled, doubled and singled twice, scoring two runs and driving in four. A five-run fifth inning was more than enough for the victory.

In the doubleheader on Saturday, Hill continued his hot hitting with four hits in six at-bats. This included a home run in the first game. He has hit safely in 13 of his last 18 times at bat.

Although weak pitching had plagued the staff throughout the season, this past week the pitchers turned in three complete games. Jerry Ricucci stopped the Spiders, while Steve Welpott held the Keydets to four hits and Tony Romasco stopped them in the second game. For Ricucci, it was the first victory of the year.

The bats were booming on Saturday as outfielder Mike Stellabotte, clobbered a home run in each game and Bob Smith and Tim Hill connected for the circuit. The team connected for 23 hits in the twin-bill and 11 hits against Richmond.

Lacrosse Team Tops Unbeaten Washington Club

• KELLY DAVIS supplied the fire power and Doug McNeill, Al Kwieski, Gary Transtrum, and Harold Sparck the defense, as GW surprised a previously unbeaten Washington Lacrosse Club "B" Team, 6-5, Saturday, at their Suitland field.

Davis, who has accounted for four goals and two assists for the Buff this year, picked up his goals in the first and third periods. Both were converted in one-on-one situations with the Washington goalie, Pete Stanton, a former lacrosse All-American from Williams College.

Washington jumped off to a quick lead, scoring four goals in the first period, while their "old men" made hay with GW's inexperienced defense. Charlie Wicker scored their first two goals on fast break situations at 1:50 and 3:52 of the first period. Charles Suhr accounted for WLC's third goal of the quarter on a mid-field screen shot. Davis broke GW's scoring ice when he golfed in a loose ball in front of the crease (8 foot circle surrounding the goal). Dean Coursen circled the nets, and flipped the ball in from the left side over Gary Transtrum's stick for WLC's fourth goal.

Washington then sat back on its heels, while their lead was whittled away with the same mental laxity that cost GW's victory against MAPS. John McGarr took the second period face off, and passed off to Davis, who went behind the goal and fed to McGarr for the score on a "give and cut" play.

Davis opened the third quarter by taking a feed from defenseman Al Kwieski, dodging his man, and scoring the goal on his way to the ground. Wicker fed John Welshholm for Washington his fifth goal at 8:09. GW's defense solidified at that point, allowing Washington only 15 shots at the goal for the remainder of the game. McGarr captured the ensuing face-off, and passed off to mid-fielder Neil Hausig who tied the score, 5-5.

Clark Reed then shoved in the final goal seconds before the end of the period, putting GW in the lead for the first time, the score did not change.

GW ended the season with a record of 1-6.

Netmen Win SC Tourney

• FOR THE NINTH TIME in the last ten years, the Colonials have swept to the Southern Conference Tennis Championship. Davidson last week was the scene of the Buff's annihilation of their conference foes.

Chuck Collett Shares First Place in SC

• GW's CHUCK COLLETT shared top honors as the Southern Conference golf tournament in Myrtle Beach with Bill Ethridge of the Citadel. The Colonials, however, did not live up to the expectations which their 9-3 season would seem to have presaged, and came in third.

Ethridge, co-champion of the tourney, sank an 18-foot putt on the 18th green for a 76. Both carded 151 for the two-day tournament.

The Colonials captured third place for the second straight year with a total of 635, only two strokes from second place and nine strokes behind victorious Citadel. Defending champion Virginia Tech placed second with a 633.

Low scorer for the Buff was Collett. Other scorers for the Buff were Bob Murphy, 79; Bob Haney, 80; Dick Ham, 86; John Sherwood, 90; and Irv Dieterle, 95.

The opening round left the team in fourth place but in the second round Collett carded a 75. Bob Murphy cut two strokes from his first round to shoot a 77 for 156 and earn part of a three-way tie for fifth place. Bob Haney, one stroke behind Murphy in the total scoring tied Bill Powell of the Citadel for sixth. He shot an 80 and a 77.

Other total scores were: Dick Ham 86, 85 for a 171; John Sherwood, 90, 83, for a 173; and Irv Dieterle 95, 81 for a 176. There were 45 golfers participating.

Next year the Colonials will lose Murphy and Haney who have been playing the one and two positions on the team. Murphy was runner-up in last year's Tourney while Haney was co-champion two years ago. Collett, however, will be back next year. He held down the third spot on the team.

Last year's record of 2-12 was improved but with the loss of three starters it may be in trouble next year.

Not since 1960 have the Colonials dominated the tournament in such a manner. According to Coach Bill Shreve, the margin of victory for the Buff was the largest in the tourney's history. Behind the Colonials (who had 35 points) were Davidson with 25 points, the Citadel with 16, and Furman with 15.

Harvey Harrison smashed his way to a second consecutive championship, losing only three games in three matches. Steve Kahn and Buddy Goeltz played particularly well in sweeping two wins in their number two and three positions. Dan Singer, still nursing a bad knee, was the only Buff netter to lose a match, while George Montalvan finally reached his potential as he romped to three straight-set wins in the number six singles division.

In the doubles bracket Harrison and Jerry Rudy dominated the field for the second year in a row. They lost only one set in the entire competition, and that was to Citadel in the semi-finals. The remaining doubles team won without losing a set.

For the season the Buff had a 7-4 won-lost record. Unfortunately three matches with second rate teams were rained out. On paper, the record is very deceptive, for three of the four losses were by 5-4 margins with the difference between victory and defeat resting on a point of two.

Individually, Harrison, Goeltz, and Rudy were the most successful singles players on the team—each attaining a 9-2 won-lost record. In doubles play Harrison and Rudy lost only one match all spring, and that was to the Atlantic Coast Conference champions George Sokol and O. H. Parrish of North Carolina. Goeltz and Kahn had an 8-3 record in doubles play.

In evaluating the team's over-all accomplishment Kahn should be given special credit. The little hustler played the number three position which is the toughest and least rewarding on the squad.

With the loss of Harrison, Kahn and Rudy through graduation, the Buff will be sorely tested in 1965 to repeat their fine performances of this year. Tom "Munchkin" Morgan will probably step into Kahn's number three position behind Goeltz and Singer. Montalvan and Dick Cunningham will likely fill two of the remaining spots. Coach Shreve may have to locate a "ringer" for his number six spot.

GW Teams Dominate Play In Conference Wrap-Ups

• LAST WEEK MARKED the end of the season for golf and tennis, and G.W. fared well in both. In the Southern Conference Tournament in Charlotte, the Colonials utilized the skill of Harvey Harrison to take five of six singles and all three doubles for 35 points and the Conference Championship.

Bill Council of Davidson was the only man to spoil a perfect record for the Buff as he held off G.W.'s Danny Singer 6-2, 4-6, 6-0 in the fourth division finals. Council's efforts put his team, Davidson, in second place with 25 points. The Citadel captured third place with 16 points, and Furman and VMI followed closely with 15 and 14 points respectively. West Virginia and William and Mary tied for fifth place with eight points as did Richmond and VPI for sixth position with seven.

Meanwhile at Myrtle Beach, the Colonials battled their way into honorable standings in the Southern Conference Golf Tournament. Both the Citadel's Bill Ethridge, the defending champion, and GW's Chuck Collett, scored 151 points for 36 holes to tie for first place in the individual scorings.

In baseball GW ended its season with three straight wins, but West Virginia remained the undisputed conference champion with its undefeated record. The Buff pounded Richmond 8-2 on Monday and took a double header from VMI on Saturday 8-3 and 9-4. West Virginia also played a twin bill, rolling over William and Mary in the usual fashion 8-0 and 4-3. In other games VMI dropped one to non-league North Carolina 9-6, and Richmond made it a winless week for VMI 4-0.
